The Core Values of the RMC Board of Directors:

We are an expression of Church

We advocate toward an open, inclusive, just and compassionate world.

We include the Spirit

We follow the Spirit's guiding as we do our business.
We practice servant leadership for the good of the whole Conference.
We are open to the nudging of the Spirit, for God is Still Speaking.
We recognize what we each bring in gifts and graces to this sacred work.

How we work together

Transparent and accountable to each other and to vision and goals.
Model forgiveness, ask forgiveness and be a risk taker. It is ok to fail.
Value our personal passion, while being mindful of the perspective of the wider church.
Be responsible to the responsibilities of the Board.
Trust each other; work to make it a safe space.
Be vulnerable, articulate and authentic.
Work to build consensus.

We are the Rocky Mountain Conference of the UCC

In covenant relation, solicit and reflect the voices of the Conference and UCC to the churches and ministries of the Rocky Mountain Conference.
We reflect the ethos of the UCC in our work.
We are a verb.
We practice faithful and covenantal stewardship.
We solicit and reflect the diverse voices of the conference.
We advocate radical connection with the national church and other conferences and ministries of
