

RMC Facilitator Workshop on the UCC's "Sacred Conversations to End Racism" Curriculum

Join us in Denver on October 12 & 13 for a facilitator workshop presented by Rev. Dr. Velda Love.

SACRED CONVERSATIONS
TO END RACISM

We invite you to begin a restorative justice journey with our Sacred Conversations to End Racism (SC2ER) Facilitator Workshop this October in Denver! It will be led by Rev. Velda Love, Minister of Racial Justice for the United Church of Christ. Here are the details:

What: Rev. Velda Love will visit the RMC to guide clergy and lay-leaders in successfully presenting the UCC's Sacred Conversations to End Racism curriculum in their own congregations. Read more about the curriculum here.

Future facilitators will be introduced to historical and contemporary resources developed from cultural perspectives that are African, Caribbean, African American, Asian/Pan-Asian/Pacific Islander, Latinx, Native American, and other Indigenous people groups; read a full overview of the training here.

Why: So that we are empowered to hold sacred and vital discussions on race and racism in our churches, thereby impacting our values and informing our ministries.

Who: We heartily encourage anyone passionate about racial justice to attend, so that they may become leaders on this important discussion in their own faith community.

When: Friday, Oct. 12 from 9am to 4pm (lunch provided) & Saturday, Oct. 13 from 9am to 1pm (breakfast provided). Attendees are asked to coordinate their own lodging.

Where: Berkeley Community Church in Denver

Cost: Registration is $25 per individual, or $50 per church (churches may send multiple people). Please note that if you are registering as part of a church group, you will not be charged, but you must ensure that your church remits the $50 payment!

Recommended Reading:

- Stand Your Ground: Black Bodies and the Justice of God by Kelly Brown Douglas, Chapters 1-3
- White Fragility: Why It's So Hard for White People to Talk About Racism by Robin DiAngelo

Register Today at RMCUCC.org!

Questions? Please email event coordinator Rev. Clare Twomey at revclare1@gmail.com.