Welcome to the Together Newsletter

It's nice to meet you!

Hello everyone! My name is Allison Radomski, and I'm the new Director of Communications for the Rocky Mountain Conference. I'm so thrilled to be here and to be working for the UCC! I wanted to take this opportunity to say hello and tell you a bit more about myself. You can also watch my video introduction by clicking the link below.

Allison says hello!

I grew up in the Midwest and spent the last several years living in Atlanta, Georgia where I worked as a freelance writer and filmmaker. I moved to Boulder County, Colorado about 3 years ago so that my husband could accept a teaching position at the University of Colorado-Boulder. We absolutely love living out West. When I'm not working, I love to watch movies, take long road trips, hike, and enjoy all of the incredible beer that Colorado has to offer.

I look forward to getting to know you as we work together. Please feel free to reach out and say hello! I also encourage you to tell me about all the exciting things that are happening in your congregation and in your community. We'd love to share your news, announcements, and upcoming events in this newsletter and on social media so that you can be more connected with each other. Please send your content submissions to allison@rmcucc.org.

Finally, on behalf of the entire conference team, I want to extend our deepest thanks to David Bristow. David has done such a fabulous job of managing the RMC's communication platforms, and we're all so grateful for his work. Thank you, David!

Once again, I'm so excited to be working with you, and I'm looking forward to connecting further!

Warmly,
Allison

Conflict, community, and consensus are just three of the things we navigate when working together toward common goals. Later this February, we'll explore some ways of working together and how some tools from community organizing can set us up for success. Join us via Zoom as we invite Rev. Jason Whitehead, PhD, a Licensed Clinical Social Worker and ICF certified coach to lead us in this conversation.
